Our Story

During a short holiday in Cornwall 2018, we were out exploring when we saw an exhausted bee on the ground. Unequipped, with no flowers nearby we carefully scooped up our new fuzzy friend and began our search for sugar and water. We soon found a café keen to help and mixed a sugar water solution onto a spoon. After the bee had a few sips we waited a moment, and our little companion had enough energy to BUZZ away and continue its mission pollinating planet earth.

Following the launch of The Original Bee Revival Kit our passion for bees has continued to grow, becoming more aware of the importance of bees and their concerning decline. Wanting to do more, we designed the bamboo edition. Made from sustainably sourced bamboo; a keyring for sowing seeds, planting trees and saving bees.

Hand assembled in Devon, each kit comes with a handful of wildflower seedballs and a pre-filled bottle, containing an ambrosia® bee food syrup.

Seedballs are native and sourced in the UK, made from clay, peat-free compost, chilli powder and contain seeds such as birds foot trefoil, wild marjoram, viper's bugloss, red clover, foxglove and poppy. Best scattered in Spring & Autumn.
