

Poo Bingo

Aidan Onn, illustrations by Claudia Boldt

Poo Bingo by Aidan Onn, illustrated by Claudia Boldt and published by Laurence King in August 2020, is an easy-to-play bingo game for children and families featuring animals and their poos.

Discover all you ever wanted to know about poo – and more – with Poo Bingo! Featuring 24 animals and their uniquely shaped poos, this is the bingo game to end all bingo games.

Kids will delight in discovering that wombats poo in cubes and that penguins poo in squirts that are different colours depending on what they've eaten! Be the first to fill your game card with animals and poos to win BINGO!

This game includes 8 double-sided game board so it can be played many times by up to eight players.

Available at laurenceking.com

Box & Board
£16.99

9781786277466
Ages 3+

Aidan Onn was born in the UK but grew up in Hong Kong. After returning to the UK to study design and film production, he settled in London.

Claudia Boldt grew up in Cologne, Germany, and moved to the UK to study at the Glasgow School of Art and then Kingston University. Her illustrations appear in many newspapers and publications, and she has written and illustrated a number of books – most recently for Tate Publishing. She is the recipient of a Booktrust Best New Illustrator award and her work has been shown at the Bologna Illustrators Exhibition.

