OUR STORY

Hi, we're Alex & Amy, the creators of Really Good Conversations.

After the loss of Alex's beloved grandfather a few years ago, we had a stark realisation.

Our family hadn't just lost him as a person; we had forever lost the chance to learn about him from him....his memories as a boy, his time in the war, all his experiences through life and the wisdom he gathered on route.

His chance to tell his story died with him that day.

It's a sad fact of life, that despite spending so much time with our loved ones, we often get stuck in the routine of everyday surface level conversation and never really make time to connect, share and listen on a deeper level.

We decided we weren't going to let this happen with our parents or our son (Max) so we created Really Good Conversations - The Card Game that Gets People Talking.

We are now on a mission to get more and more people connecting with each other like never before.

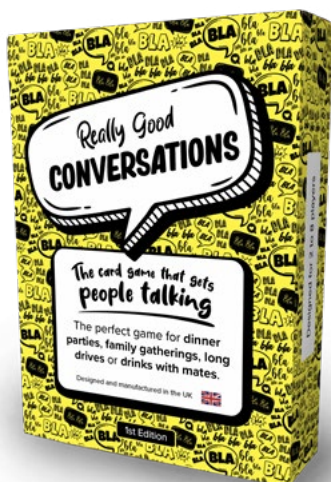

We hope you enjoy playing our games and learn something new and surprising about the people you care about most.
