

Artisan Nesters

These stunning and award-winning Artisan Nesters are handwoven and hand stitched from recycled saris and natural seagrass by women in Southern Bangladesh.

The nester has a small round protruding entrance to make it easy for birds to land and perch to check for predators before entering. Providing small garden birds with essential protection against the weather in winter and nesting in spring.

- Fairtrade and handmade by artisans
- Sustainably made from natural recycled material
- Supporting workers in rural communities, funding the survival of many women and their families in desperate poverty
- Available in a variety of sizes for birds who roost alone or together
