

Ambit gift label

With growing awareness across society of the need to avoid unnecessary consumption, a conscious choice was made to keep packaging to a minimum for this collection.

I have opted for a free-standing folded gift-tag that narrates the story of the product as well as providing essential user information.

This is an exclusive piece of Sue Ure Maison porcelain.

The story starts in our studio in France where the original ware is created.

It is then reproduced for us in Sri Lanka by a family-run factory.

They have a long heritage and in-depth knowledge of traditional ceramic techniques.

Each piece is individually made and decorated by hand to ensure the highest quality and finish.

This beautiful timeless design is created to be used and enjoyed.

All our products are fully dishwasher- and microwave-safe.
